CLASS NEWS

This week, we're Celebrating World Teachers' Day, a special occasion to recognise and thank our incredible teachers for the dedication, care and creativity they bring to our classrooms every day. Our teachers do so much more than teach, they inspire curiosity, build confidence, and nurture the hearts and minds of our students.

At our school assembly this week, we will celebrate and show our appreciation for each teacher for their unique strengths and contributions they bring to our school community. From creativity and kindness to teamwork and innovation, every teacher truly makes a difference. We invite everyone in the FEPS community to join us for a fun assembly this week.

A huge thank you to all our teachers for the enthusiasm, patience and love you show every single day. You are the heart of our school, and we're so grateful for all that you do!

Help Sea Shepherd SAVE OUR MARINE ANIMALS!

The ET Reps are raising money for Sea Shepherd to help their fight help marine animals.

At recess and lunch on Thursday the 6th of November the ET Reps will be selling fruit, juice and icy poles with all proceeds being donated to Sea Shepherd's mission.

RECESS: cups of fruit, cups of juice 50c each
LUNCH: Icy poles $1 each

Bring some coins on Thursday the 6th of November to help the ET Reps raise money for Sea Shepherd, to aid in their mission to halt the trawling of krill in the Antarctic. Trawlers are operating 24/7 despite dozens of whales around them trying to feed off the krill. For some species of whales this is their only food source. Penguins and seabirds also feed off krill as part of their diet.

(This is not a dress up day)

Koori Club excursion to Nairm Marr Djambana

The Koori Club students had a wonderful afternoon at Nairm Marr Djambana on Monday. They set off on foot with Mr Bull and Miss Turner, how lucky having it be only 400m away from FEPS!

The students learned about edible plants, did some crafts with Emu feathers and did some art to get their creative minds ticking! Such a wholesome afternoon spent connecting with Country and Culture!

Thank you to Nairm Marr Djambana for hosting the Koori Club!

There was lots of things to eat from the garden and there some pretend crocodiles on the ground. -Liam H, Prep

We got there and we made a hut out of tree bark,, then we learnt about plants that you can eat. We also painted pictures that are going to be framed, it was a lot of fun! - Cooper H, grade 5

Safety improvements on Cranbourne Road and Beach Street

The Department of Transport and Planning will be installing a new signalised pedestrian crossing on the westbound lanes of Cranbourne Road near Beach Street in Frankston. The new crossing will link to the existing crossing on the eastbound lanes via a footpath in the centre median, improving access to schools, shops, bus stops and other local amenities. Please see the maps attached to see what we're doing and the location of the school speed zones.

Access changes at Frawley Street

We're closing the right-hand turn from Frawley Street onto Cranbourne Road to make the intersection safer. The intersection has a history of crashes involving right turning traffic.

The intersection has restricted visibility, and it can be difficult to find gaps between oncoming traffic on Cranbourne Road, particularly during peak periods. Motorists also have restricted visibility when stopped in the centre median opening due to vehicles queuing in the right turn lane on Cranbourne Road. The centre median opening is also too short for larger vehicles, such as trucks and buses, which can block eastbound traffic on Cranbourne Road while waiting to turn.

Alternate route to access the westbound lanes of Cranbourne Road

Drivers can turn left from Frawley Street onto Cranbourne Road and then perform a U-turn at either the centre median opening near the Frankston RSL or at the U-turn opening near Coprosma Avenue.

What's next

Works are expected to start on these important safety upgrades in early 2026. We'll keep you updated about dates and construction impacts closer to works starting.

Kind regards,
Cranbourne Road and Beach Street safety improvements project team
